"August Flower"

The Hon. J. W. Fennimore is the Sheriff of Kent Co., Del., and lives at Dover, the County Seat and Capital of the State. The sheriff is a gentleman fifty-nine years of age, and this is what he says: "I have used your August Flower for several years in my family and for my own use, and found it does me more good than any other remedy. I have been troubled with what I call Sick Headache. A pain comes in the back part of my head first, and then soon a general headache until I become sick and vomit. At times, too, I have a fullness after eating, a pressure after eating at the pit of the stomach, and sourness, when food seemed to rise up in my throat and mouth. When I feel this coming on if I take a little August Flower it relieves me, and is the best remedy I have ever taken for it. For this reason I take it and recommend it to others as a great remedy for Dyspepsia, &c."

COLD NERVE AND WASHCERS.

How a Young Clerk at Cheyenne Stopped a Run-on the Bank.

"We've got a bank clerk up in our neck o' woods who some day will give Jay Gould cards and spades in the game of financing and beat him to a standstill," says Mortz Curren. "He's only nineteen years old but is a hammer. Two or three months ago, while the president of the bank was away, the cashier was taken sick and in a few hours was in a delirious state. The young Napoleon was left in full charge of the bank. Some evil disposed person started the story one afternoon that the institution was in a bad way, and intimated that the president had skipped the country and that the cashier's illness was only a 'bluff.' Before night it was evident there would be a run on the institution the next morning. The young clerk knew there was scarcely money enough to last an hour. He had no one to advise him, but he acted promptly."

"He called on the leading hardware merchant and held a brief conference. Then this young Napoleon went home, where he found a committee from the depositors awaiting him. He did not wait for them to speak, but made this bluff: 'I refuse to discuss business with you. There will be $50,000 in gold here in the morning, and there is a like amount in the safe. You may draw out every dollar you have deposited, and we'll be glad to get rid of your small accounts.' Then he turned on his heel and left the committee. Bright and early there assembled at the bank the creditors."

"Just before three for opening the doors an express wagon was driven up, in which were seated two heavily armed men, one of them the watchman of the bank. A pathway through the crowd was made, and the watchman began carrying into the bank canvas bags containing gold coin, as indicated by the prominent marks. Some of the bags were marked '$5,000,' and one or two '$10,000.' The people saw these bags, heard the clink of the metal, and believing the bank was 'O. K.,' were about to move away."

"Just as the last bag of 'gold' was handed into the door the young financier threw the bank open. The crowd did not make any effort to reach the paying teller's window. 'Come on, now, every one of you,' shouted the clerk. No one responding he made another bluff. 'You must come and get your money. We don't want your d—d accounts any more. Here, Jim Bartley, take this and sign this receipt in full. Here, Bill Wyman, come and get your dust.' He insisted on their taking the money. Just at this juncture the committee came in and begged the clerk to 'stop, for God's sake.' They almost got down on their knees to ask the bank to keep their money. The young 'Napoleon' finally consented, but declared if there was ever 'any more nonsense he would throw every depositor's money into the street.'"

"The crowd departed happy, and confident that the bank was one of the strongest institutions of its kind in America. Their confidence might have been shaken had they known the canvas bags marked '$5,000 gold,' etc., and bedaubed with red sealing wax, contained nothing more nor less than iron washers, which the young clerk had purchased from the hardware man, who had otherwise assisted in the deception, he being convinced of the soundness of the bank. The two men the young Napoleon insisted on paying in full the bank had long wished to get rid of."—Cheyenne Leader.

A Coroner's Verdict.

A coroner out west recently reasoned out a verdict more sensible than one-half the verdicts usually rendered. It appears that an Irishman, conceiving that a little powder thrown upon some green wood would facilitate its burning directed a small stream from a keg upon the burning piece; but not possessing a hand sufficiently quick to cut this off was blown into a million pieces. The following was the verdict, delivered with great gravity by the official:

"Can't be called suicide, because he didn't mean to kill himself; it wasn't 'visitation of God' because he wasn't struck by lightning; he didn't die for want of breath for he hadn't anything to breathe with; it's plain he didn't know what he was about, so I shall bring in—Died for want of common sense."—Green Bag.

Putting It Delicately.

He was a country parson and a good fellow at heart, and he liked to put it delicately; and so he finished up his sermon Sunday:

"And, in conclusion, my friends, we will now take up the collection, and I trust I shall offend none of the cheerful givers who so regularly contribute to, alas! I am afraid, too frequent demands on their charity, if I suggest that I now possess a most ample and varied collection of buttons, and what we chiefly need now is some needles and thread—and a little cloth."—Exchange.

Long Periods.

Miss Prune—Philosophers disagree as to which period of life seems the longest to mankind. What is your opinion, doctor?

Doctor (meditatively)—Well, it varies in women, for instance, the longest generally is between twenty-nine and thirty. I know, in my wife's case, ten years elapsed between her twenty-ninth and thirtieth birthdays.—Exchange.

BREADSTUFFS AND THE ALLIANCE.

The exports of breadstuffs for the year ending June 30, 1891, were, according to the official returns, as follows: Wheat, 54,201,282 bushels; value, $50,493,637; wheat flour, 11,007,638 barrels, value, $53,116,384; corn, 29,894,380 bushels, value, $17,124,370; oats, value, $389,078; total, $123,156,478. The total value of breadstuffs exported during the year ending June 30, 1890, was $150,090,033, or $27,533,555 more than for the year ending June 30th last.

As crops are reported as being above the average in the great grain growing States of the West this year, it is expected that the exports of breadstuffs will be much greater than last year, especially as their is a shortage in the grain-growing sections of Russia and India, which are the principal competitors with American grain in western Europe.

The Farmers' Alliance, aware that a tariff on wheat and breadstuffs, of which the country produces much more than is required for home consumption, is simply a trick of the politicians to deceive the grain-growers, has formulated a plan to control the entire wheat crop of the country. It purposes uniting the farmers in a gigantic wheat trust, in which the producers shall be stockholders and by which speculators are to be squeezed or driven out of the business. The wheat crop this year is estimated at 500,000,000 bushels, and the Alliance believes that four-fifths of this can be held back by the farmers from four to eight weeks. This will send the price up and compel the speculators, who have contracts to fill, to pay what the trust demands. The General Alliance has prepared a circular requesting farmers to hold their wheat. These circulars are being sent to the 40,000 Secretaries of the Alliance for distribution, and it is believed that if the instructions are followed the price of wheat will be advanced in the great wheat centers, like Chicago, for instance, from 25 to 50 per cent. in a few weeks.

BLAINE ON GUARD.

Secretary Blaine tells the correspondent of the New York World that he is going to get well just to give the lie to the outrageous story circulated by the Harrison Republicans concerning his health.

The Bar Harbor Record, under the significant head, "Blaine on Guard," prints the following editorial:

"Mr. Blaine must have awakened to the fact that an organized conspiracy exists to crowd him out of the path that leads to the Republican nomination for the Presidency. It is satisfactory to know also that the Clarksons and the Platts of the Republican party have felt compelled to show their hand. Mr. Blaine's candidacy is more than a mere party question. He is greater than any party. No cabal inside Republican lines or out can destroy his transcendent popularity."

TERRIFIC FLOODS.

An extra Courier received last evening gives an account of the most terrific floods experienced in Genoa for thirty years. Friday afternoon the water rushed down the canyon in a wave twenty feet high, sweeping everything before it. It struck Duke's building, breaking doors and windows and carried it two hundred yards into a field. Hay stacks were washed away and grain and hay fields were covered with bowlders. Fortunately, no lives were lost, though the damage amounts to several thousand dollars.

The flood was caused by cloud-bursts in the mountains, the water rushing down the steep mountain side and concentrating in the narrow canyon. Piles of bowlders, logs, gravel and sand supplant fields of waving grain on several farms.

The Gazette is like the stubborn mule which the old lady said was "set in its ways." It said the Ohio Democratic platform is misleading on the silver question, and adheres to that opinion notwithstanding the leading champions of the silver cause and gold men, including Major McKinley, say it is as clear and strong a declaration for free coinage as could be made.

Ex-President Cleveland was given an enthusiastic reception at Sandwich, Massachusetts, yesterday. All the residents of Cape Cod, irrespective of politics, united in welcoming him. Speeches were made by Governor Russell, Mr. Cleveland and others.

Mrs. E. F. Seales died in New York yesterday. As the widow of Mark Hopkins, Mrs. Seales was a large owner in the Southern Pacific Company and was reputed to be worth $60,000,000.

The Gazette is wheeling in line with the free coinage men. Though it has not yet declared that it will not support a gold bug for President, it will doubtless do so later on.

Destructive Cloud-burst at Genoa.

Special to the Journal.
Crescent City, July 25.—The thunder storm Friday afternoon came near wiping out the mountain town of Genoa. About three o'clock a cloud-burst took place near where the big snow slide occurred years ago. In a few moments a terrible flood of water came down three separate canyons, sweeping everything before it. When the first alarm of the flood was given, women and children hurried to safe quarters through rain, carrying babies in their arms. From Genoa Canyon the water rushed down in a single breast twenty feet high, carrying logs and bowlders in wild confusion. It struck C. W. Duke's undertaking shop and swept it like a toy two hundred yards into Gray's fields. The large stock of coffins also floated off into the field. The water made a clean shot from Snow Slide Canyon, leaving rocks bare and dashing over the base of the mountain. C. W. Duke saw the water come out and says when the stream from Snow Slide Canyon struck that from Genoa Canyon the water shot up in the air fifty or sixty feet. The water from Genoa Canyon rushed down with rocks and logs and covered Mrs. Raycraft's fine young orchard, potatoes and vegetables on the Nimrod, which was devastated by the snow slide of '82. T. N. Hansen's pasture lot was covered with immense bowlders and totally ruined. L. Fray is the heaviest loser of all, his large flume was entirely swept away from the mouth of Genoa Canyon. Dozens of logs, some forty feet long and three feet in diameter, were carried across the road and from two to three hundred yards down into a field. Rocks and debris cover much of the finest meadow and grain land and destroyed the crops thereon. The entire water supply of Genoa is cut off, the pipes being broken and the tanks filled with debris or washed out.

A Plan to Rob a Bank Frustrated by a Reporter.

Special to the Journal.
Des Moines, Ia., July 25.—A well laid plan to kill the cashier of the American Savings Bank and rob the vault of $500,000 was discovered here this morning. The robbery was arranged to take place on Monday morning at 8:30, the hour at which the vault is regularly opened by Cashier Elliott. The scheme was for one man to engage the cashier in conversation, while another was to enter the side door, slip up behind and sandbag or stab him if necessary, while a third fellow was to take the rolls of money from the vault. Two of the men, James McDermitt, colored, a tough, and Sam Cooper a real estate swindler, were from Des Moines and the third one a professional tough from Kansas City. Cooper and McDermitt are under arrest. A local newspaper man got wind of the scheme by pretending to be a tough from Missouri.

The Elliott Murder Case.

Special to the Journal.
Columbus, O., July 25.—The jury in the Elliott murder case has taken a recess until Monday, after being in session since Thursday noon. The jury to-day asked the court for evidence bearing upon the point as to who fired the first shot in the tragedy. As the testimony is voluminous, the Court was obliged to order a recess that he might have time to refresh his memory on the testimony desired.

There is a growing anxiety over the failure of the jury to return a verdict. No reliable information as to the jury's standing. The Charges Against Isadore Alexander Dismissed.

Sacramento, July 25.—The charges against Isadore Alexander, a newspaper correspondent, and William Colburn, who were accused of uttering a forged telegram, upon which Alexander procured money, was dismissed upon motion of the City Attorney, who said the Western Union Telegraph Company believed Alexander was mentally irresponsible when he committed the act, and that Colburn is a mere boy and had no guilty intent.

A $25,000 Fire in Chicago.

Special to the Journal.
Chicago, July 25.—A fire starting from a defective fuse to-day caused $25,000 damage in the Richelieu Hotel. The costly furniture and a number of valuable paintings in the Crystal Banquet Room were destroyed, and the furniture in the saloon below being damaged by water.

Two Boys Drowned.

Special to the Journal.
Vallejo, Cal., July 25.—This afternoon two small boys belonging to the Good Templars Orphan Home were drowned in Lake Chabot, the source of Vallejo's water supply. Their names are George Higron and Elias Dancan, both about fourteen years of age. They managed to get into an old boat floating on the lake, and had got only a few feet from shore when it upset. Both were unable to swim. The bodies were recovered.

A Destructive Fire at Vancouver.

Special to the Journal.
Vancouver, Wash., July 25.—A fire broke out to-night in W. A. Mills' sash and door factory and spread among a large amount of dry lumber. The building was entirely consumed, owing to a lack of water. The losses are as follows: W. A. Mills, $6,000; Abrahams & Knox, $2,000; Antonio Young, $2,000; W. W. Proostel, $500. The insurance was small. One horse was burned to death.

Lumber and Mill Destroyed by Fire.

Special to the Journal.
Crescent City, Cal., July 25.—The Lake Earl lumber mill three miles from here was burned this morning, also 500,000 feet of lumber. Loss, $40,000. No insurance. Simpson & Bros., of San Francisco, and Junger & Co., of Crescent City, were the owners. One hundred and twenty-five men are thrown out of employment.

A Chilean Steamer in Distress.

Special to the Journal.
San Diego, July 25.—The steamer Montserrat arrived from Chile this evening. She put in this port in distress, having run out of provisions on the way up. She has on board the commander of one of the insurgent vessels, who was badly wounded in an engagement with a government war ship.

Mount Hamilton Fires Out.

Special to the Journal.
San Jose, July 25.—The fires on Mount Hamilton are all out to-night and the men sent from here have returned.

The Central Nevada says: The Big Creek antimony mine has produced 200 tons of ore, now ready for shipment, and it is thought 700 tons will be transported by November.

A fire which broke out in the hardware store of Weatherwax & Morris at Placerville proved very disastrous, and giant powder was used to blow up buildings to stop its progress.

Last June a Chinaman named Ah Quong Tai was chopped to pieces by the Indians at Bridgeport, Mono county, California. ARTESIAN WELL BORING.

A Method that Will Revolutionize the Business.

The Examiner has this from Lancaster, California: "The first artesian well ever sunk in this valley, and probably in California without casing or pipe of any description, was successfully commenced and finished to-day (Thursday) by means of a hydraulic pump. This morning at 8 o'clock three men started to sink an artesian well on B. Hannah's ranch, some six miles west of here, and by 6 o'clock they had struck a fine flow of water at a depth of 260 feet.

The whole valley is enthusiastic over this occurrence, since heretofore to sink such a well would have taken some two months to put down and cost $2.50 per foot, while under this system wells can be sunk for $1 per foot.

Colonel McClure.

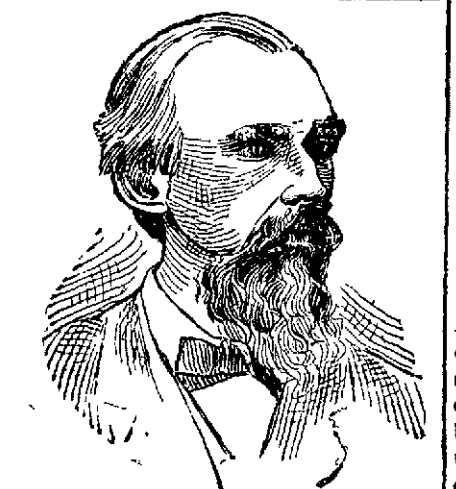

Alexander H. McClure, the well-known Philadelphia journalist whose controversy with Colonel John G. Nicolay regarding the late Hannibal Hamlin has attracted attention, was born sixty-one years ago in Franklin county, Pa. He first worked in a tannery, but abandoned this for journalism, and during the war became editor of the Chambersburg Repository, a weekly paper. He took great interest in politics, and was a delegate to the Lincoln Convention in 1860. He was a delegate at-large in 1864. He joined the Democratic party in 1872 in the Greeley-Grant campaign, and was a staunch supporter of Hancock in 1880, and of Cleveland in 1884. He was Chairman of the State Committee and has always exhibited great skill in handling politicians. He learned political methods from Simon Cameron, which he afterwards very effectively used against him in opposition. Colonel McClure established, in connection with two Philadelphia printers, the McLaughlin Bros., the Philadelphia Times in 1877. He is its principal proprietor and its editor-in-chief. For some time he was an agent for the Pennsylvania railroad in Virginia. Col. McClure wields a powerful pen and considers himself a better journalist than editor. He is a fine specimen of humanity, being six foot three in height, with a head and face suggesting Daniel Webster. He is much admired as a speaker and as a writer.

John G. Nicolay.

Colonel Nicolay has come into prominence recently from his controversy with Colonel Alexander H. McClure with regard to Lincoln's attitude towards the late Hannibal Hamlin as a candidate for Vice President. But Colonel Nicolay has other claims to distinction as an author, and as President Lincoln's Private Secretary. He was born in Germany on the west bank of the Rhine between Mayence and Strasburg. His father was a farmer, who sold his few acres of Bavarian soil and came to this country with his five children in 1837. John was the youngest, and was born in 1832. His father died in Illinois, where the family was then settled, and at the age of fourteen young Nicolay was thrown entirely on his own resources. He served in a country store at $4 a month, and afterwards became a "devil" in a printing office, subsequently in regular order compositor, editor and proprietor. He read law in the office of the Secretary of State of Illinois, and it was here that he first made the acquaintance of Abraham Lincoln. He felt that Lincoln would become famous, and as far back as 1858 began to make scrap books containing an authentic record of the growth of events of which the tall, gaunt, popular lawyer was soon to be the central figure. Mr. Nicolay became Lincoln's Private Secretary soon after the nomination. There is probably no man in the country more intimately acquainted with every point in the career of Lincoln than Colonel Nicolay, and who has a better understanding of his noble character.

THE BISHOP'S SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

A High Recommendation From Virginia City.

The Virginia Enterprise has the following:

The Bishop Whitaker School for Girls at Reno begins the sixteenth year on September 2. This school has been doing excellent work for the girls of Nevada for all these years, and still continues to do so. It is no small point in its excellence that it furnishes the best of homes for the children sent to it. The instruction is superior, the location healthful and the homelike surroundings of the school make it a desirable place for those who wish to send their daughters from home. Mrs. B. F. Layton of this city will succeed Miss Quail in the music department; the other teachers who have been at the school the past two years, remain at their work. Miss Louise Sissas or Mrs. Layton will answer any questions with reference to the school, and catalogues can be had on application to Miss Magquier, at Reno.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

FREE COINAGE.

What Senator Stewart Predicts It Will Do.

A New York dispatch says Senator Stewart in a letter to one of the papers on the effects of free coinage in the United States, paints this rosy picture: "Let silver be restored and the volume of real money increased and prosperity will follow as the light of day follows the rising sun. Prices will rise and producers of wealth will be rewarded by the enhanced value of the fruits of their toil. The value of farms and farm products will be enhanced and agriculturists can pay off their mortgages, support their families and educate their children.

"Stocks will rise, the people will have money to buy them, and stock exchanges will be overrun with business in filling the increased orders from people who will be encouraged to buy because the prices are advancing. Business will be active and the merchant will prosper because the people are prosperous, and all who are industrious can supply themselves with the necessities and many of the luxuries of life, and pay cash on delivery.

"Given the sordid usurer will be benefited, the danger of loss by the bankruptcy of his debtors will be removed. Safe security will be ample at reasonable interest, because men of enterprise can afford to borrow money to invest in property and pay good interest when property is advancing in price."

Wednesday night there was standing room only at the lecture hall in Ellis block to hear Dr. McClure, the "Seer," in his entertaining lecture to gentlemen. Yesterday afternoon the hall was filled with ladies, who were much pleased with the very instructive lecture, and much amazed when the "Seer" instantly cured one lady of a severe headache, and another of a severe pain and soreness in the side, with his magnetic touch without medicine.—Marysville Appeal.

Beware of Quack Remedies for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reliable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

How Old Masters Are Made.
Apropos de bottles, I find two curious business advertisements in my foreign papers. One is that of an ingenious person whose address is at the Batignolles, and who announces himself as a "signaturist" and a "monogrammist," and guarantees signatures of any artist at any period of his art at a franc apiece. Only think of it! For the price of a pony of brandy at Delmonico's one may convert any unidentified find of the junkshop into a Rembrandt, a Velasquez, a Millet, or whatever else one chooses.
Moreover, this expert announces that he "identifies" pictures for his clients. A wizard capable of transforming pictures could naturally identify them by the same process. There are some "collectors" in America whom it would pay to make a trip to Paris and a visit to the Batignolles. The demand for old masters has stimulated the ingenuity of some German genius in another direction. A standing advertisement in the leading art magazine of Germany is that of a "competent artist," as he signs himself, who offers to furnish copies that cannot be identified from the originals of any pictures in any of the public collections.—Collector.

Annihilated in Midair.
About 8 o'clock, just before the heavy shower, several gentlemen were sitting in front of a store in West Nashville when one of the party observed a large turkey buzzard that was sailing majestically across the sky, and remarked that if the buzzard did not look out he would get wet.
Their attention was thus called to the bird, and all were lazily watching its flight, when suddenly, just as it was opposite to and above them, they were blinded by a flash of lightning, which seemingly exploded on the back of the buzzard. They were astonished somewhat, but recovered themselves and looked for the buzzard, but alas, the majestic bird was out of sight. All that was left of him was a few black tail feathers, which fluttered pathetically to the ground.
Those who witnessed the phenomenon succeeded in catching several of the scorched feathers, which they exhibit in corroboration of the story.—Nashville American.

Mr. Sears' Imported Razors.
The Tamworth hogs, which J. Montgomery Sears has imported for breeding purposes, are an old English breed characterized by the large proportion of lean meat to the fat in its make up. It has of late been overlooked in the effort to breed for fat, hence has seldom been mentioned or heard of. Mr. Sears has called public attention to the breed by his importations, and still others now have them under trial. They are medium in size, light in the shoulder, deep sided, and rather fat as compared with the modern models, and "red" in color. Their recommendation is that they are unlike the rounded balls of fat that have been furnishing us our models.—Bangor Commercial.

A Boy Tread by a Wild Cat.
Charlie Heath, of Brooks, a boy sixteen years old, was attacked in that town the other day by a strange animal, probably a wildcat. The boy saw the animal in a tree and threw a stone at it. Thereupon the animal sprang down upon the boy and they had quite a fight, in which the clothes of young Heath were torn, his head and face and parts of his body badly scratched. The boy then managed to climb a tree and with his heavy boots would kick the animal down as it tried to get to him. After some time the beast became tired of this and slunk away.—Leviston Journal.

The First Cloud.
"Boo-hoo-hoo!" cried the bride.
"What is it, dear?" asked the groom from the other end of the breakfast table.
"Y-y-you have bub-broken your pup-promise," sobbed the bride. "You said nothing should ever come between us, and the bub-breakfast table is there now!"—Harper's Bazar.
